

DaLearning

Abstract

Delivery of our major portfolio is now via a blended model with associated savings to the MOD in time away from the workplace, T&S costs and delivery costs.

The presentation will provide an overview of the expansion of the use of blended learning in DaLearning - from the development of 1 hour modules through to the development of 227 hours of e-learning with associated workshops and online support tools. Reaction to the new model is largely positive with individuals appreciating the flexibility of learning that e-learning brings:

- Shorter modules – more flexible study programme
- Pre-testing – prior knowledge rewarded with shorter study time
- e-learning elements always available
- Accessibility – anytime, anywhere

- Key drivers for wider client (sponsor & line management)

- Key benefits to users

- Who:
 - Blended Delivery - DaLearning (MOD & Logica) + SME + Offshore
 - GoLearn – dblearning

- What:
 - Setting Your Own Agenda
 - Workshops
 - Blended support
 - Mobile learning

- The future:
 - Mobile Learning
 - WEB 2.0

Louise Harvey